Progress Reports and Student Led Conferences

On Friday, November 14th, students will receive an Initial Observation of Learning (JK and SK) or a Progress Report (Grade 1-8). These documents are a look into how your child's school year has started in the academic areas and learning skills. These reports are often indicators of where students might need some support as they move through their year. In the afternoon and evening of November 20th as well as the morning of November 21st, teachers will be available to participate in Student Led conferences, where students are highly encouraged to attend to discuss what the reports have indicated. The online booking system for these reports can be accessed by visiting <https://shorturl.at/z8jUO> and selecting the staff member(s) you wish to book with. Appointments will be scheduled for 20 minutes in length and will have other families in the room at the same time. If you are looking to speak with a teacher in private, it would be best to reach out to them and arrange a private phone call or interview time at another date. We look forward to having families out and engaged in their child(ren)'s progress thus far.

Holiday Fundraiser

Running through November 14th, families can purchase tickets through School Cash Online for a variety of poinsettias to be able to decorate for the upcoming holiday season. The tickets will be sent home with students, and then can be redeemed for the preferred colour of poinsettia at Ross' Nurserymen in Chatham.

Treaty Recognition Week

During the week of November 3rd to 7th, students will be learning about treaties, which are land agreements between Indigenous and non-Indigenous communities throughout the country. This is important work, as it affects all land which we call Canada today.

Bullying Awareness Week

November 17th through 21st is Bullying Awareness Week. We continue to teach students to stand up to bullies, to be a buddy and not a bystander, and to help them develop strategies to deal with difficult people in a variety of settings. This work is important and continuous by our educators.
